ONLY
$1.25
PER SACK.

IT is the highest patent flour milled in the United States. Only one other town in the state handles such a high grade and costs us 10 cents per sack more than any other flour brought to Bryan. Glory flour for fancy cooking requires less lard, soda and baking powder than any other. If you are not in the habit of using this grade of flour try a sack and be convinced of its superiority.

SPION KOP CAPTURED.

Warren Attacks at Night and Displaces the Boer Garrison.

PARTICULARS BRIEF.

Buller's Dispatch Says Only Few Boers Were Found, Yet He Reports the British Loss Great—Details Anxiously Awaited.

London, Jan. 25.—Jubilant over General Warren's achievements in capturing Spion kop Wednesday night, chastened by the realization that the success was only provisional, as it appears clear from General Buller's dispatch the Boers fully realized the strategical importance of Spion kop, and at the time the message was sent off they had not abandoned the hope of recapturing the position. Nevertheless, a heavy load of anxiety has been removed from the nation, and there is a general expectation that as the British have succeeded in keeping the hill all day, they will manage to retain it until General Warren plants guns enough on it to dominate the Boer trenches right and left.

There is the usual disposition here to exaggerate the importance of the point scored, but the best informed people realize that General Buller has a task ahead of him calling for the most dogged persistence and untiring attack, and the difficulties increase as the position develops.

The relief of the tension on stock exchange was very marked. Business began more cheerfully all around and with an upward movement under the influence of the news and at the war office and clubs and other resorts there was a notable change from the gloomy fears of Tuesday.

The appearance of news placards on the streets sent crowds of people to war office and the lobbies were soon filled to suffocation.

The following is the message received by the war office from General Buller at 1 o'clock this morning.

"General Warren's troops last night occupied Spion kop, surprising the small garrison, who fled. It has been held by us all day, though we were heavily attacked, especially by a very annoying shell fire.

"I fear our casualties are considerable and I have to inform you, with regret that General Woodgate was dangerously wounded.

"General Warren is of the opinion that he has rendered the enemy's position untenable. The men are splendid."

In the ladies' lobby there were signs of sadness with the victory. The question often asked was: "When will the casualties be received?"

Though Buller's dispatch is dated today and speaks of Spion kop being captured "last night," it apparently means Tuesday night. The statement that there was only a small garrison at Spion kop came somewhat as a surprise, as it was imagined the Boers were there in great force. This is taken in some quarters to indicate the Boers were not so surprised at the assault as it appeared, but previously drew off the main body and left a small force to withstand the British advance. It is even suggested the Boers inveigled the British into occupying Spion kop and are now surrounding them.

It is evident in spite of the fact that the British hold Potgieter's drift and the hills above, the Boers succeeded in bringing up enough artillery to inflict considerable losses on the British force which seized Spion kop, although Lord Dundonald is supposed to have been scouring beyond the ranges in order to prevent this very thing and although General Lytleton ought have got near enough to Spion kop to either intercept the retreating Boers or prevent a serious attack over the British who had taken possession of the hill.

The Pall Mall Gazette announces that the South African Chartered company has placed an order for rifles and saddles for use in South Africa to be delivered immediately. The government still declines to make any public statement as to General Carrington's orders or under what auspices he is going to South Africa. Representatives of the British Chartered company are equally reticent.

The military critic in the Morning Leader writes:

"General Carrington is not to go to the Cape either as divisional general of a brigade or general commanding the yeomanry of mounted infantry. But he is going. Radical newspapers are clamoring to know why and for what purpose Carrington is going out."

It is semi-officially announced the government intimated to the heads of the Irish constabulary that it accept the picked corps from that body for service in South Africa and volunteers are to be called for.

London, Jan. 25. The assemblage in

Pall Mall outside the war office and those privileged to wait in the lobbies reluctantly dispersed just after 12 o'clock this morning, after the final word that nothing would be announced. The morning papers went to press with conjectures and forecasts of all sorts, striving to guess out something from Spion kop.

Topography maps show that Spion kop is the highest part of a rocky plateau. Eastward for eight miles are the Drakensburgs along the Tugela. Northward from Spion kop the plateau runs gradually up to a great spur of the Drakensburg.

General Buller's infantry, to reach the summit of Spion kop, must cross a natural glacis three-quarters of a mile wide, and climb 500 feet up a steep slope.

Nobody here seems to know, not even the war office, what Lord Roberts has done with his large reinforcements. Six thousand troops awaited his arrival at Cape Town and since then 6000 more have reached there. Military critics are all hoping that a good share of these 12,000 have gone to help General Buller and they argue that a few days wait may make him strong enough to overcome the deadlock. There are 19,000 troops at sea and this heavyweight on the British side is expected to destroy the equilibrium now existing on every field of operations.

The British losses up to date in killed, wounded and captured, according to General Buller's last list, is a total of 8216 men.

Helen Gould's Gift.

New York, Jan. 25.—Details of Miss Helen Gould's benefaction to the naval branch of the Young Men's Christian association of Brooklyn, have just been made public. She has given $125,000 to the institution, and has secured title to adjoining property for a site for a new 5-story building. The new building will be a memorial to Miss Gould's father and mother. It will have a frontage of 90 feet and will combine the features of a mission, hotel and gymnasium. There will be a good library, a swimming tank, baths and a restaurant where meals can be secured by sailors for a nominal sum.

Wrecking Buildings With Dynamite.

Leadville, Jan. 25.—The third of a series of dynamite explosions within the city limits occurred early today, wrecking the handsome residence of A. V. Hunter, the millionaire mine owner, and the home of J. C. Ritchey, adjoining. The first dynamite explosion occurred Sunday night at the Carbonate theatre, wrecking the rear of the building. The second occurred in the rear of the courthouse breaking the windows. No one has been hurt in the explosions. The police are at a loss to ascribe the motive for the outrages.

Lives Lost in a Fire.

Dunkirk, N. Y., Jan. 25.—Fire did $200,000 damage at Fredonia, a village three miles south of Dunkirk. Besides the loss of buildings the powerhouse of the Dunkirk and Fredonia Street Car company was destroyed together with all the cars. Two lives were lost in the flames. Alice Huntington was burned to death while trying to save her personal effects. Warren Leopold Bretzki, a printer, lost his life in a hotel while asleep in his room. The fire started in a hotel from some cause unknown.

Expecting Important News.

London, Jan. 25.—The Chinese minister here is evidently expecting news of some important developments at Peking. When the story of the emperor's abdication was communicated to him by a representative of the Associated Press he said: "I have no official news on the subject. I knew something was going on in Peking, but nothing yet has been officially communicated to me. I am greatly obliged for your information."

Important Railroad Deal.

New Orleans, Jan. 25.—An important conference of high railroad officials, that may result in the sale of an important railroad line, is in progress in this city. President Fish of the Illinois Central, President Russell of the Mobile and Ohio and President Milton Smith are here. There is reason to believe Mr. Fish and Mr. Russell are here to confer over the sale of the Mobile and Ohio to the Illinois Central.

Another Vessel Wrecked.

St. Johns, N. F., Jan. 25.—News has been received that a large and unknown vessel went ashore on Fox Tail Point bay, St. George, Wednesday, Jan. 17. Her spars are all gone and a lot of wreckage along her side, but showed no sign of men or boats. A southeast gale Sunday drove the vessel off shore and the ice prevented anybody getting near the wreck.

Safe Robbed of Diamonds.

Philadelphia, Jan. 25.—Diamonds valued at $6000 were stolen from the safe in the office of Joseph K. Davison & Son, manufacturing jewelers. The first intimation Mr. Davison had of the robbery was when he opened the safe and found it rifled of its contents. There is nothing to indicate the manner in which the thief entered the office.

Mr. L. W. Clark Promoted.

Mr. L. W. Clark, of Dallas, has been made editor-in-chief of the Galveston-Dallas News, to succeed Mr. Jenkins, who lately retired, having enjoyed the distinction of being one of the most learned and polished editorial writers of the south, and having rounded out a full measure of years of usefulness, and sought retirement on account of advancing years. The management of the News has chosen wisely in selecting his successor. Mr. Clark is able, scholarly, broad minded and abundantly capable of assuming the important duties his promotion will impose upon him. He has been connected with the News for a number of years, and his work is familiar to the thousands of readers of the double-ender. Mr. Clark is a son-in-law of Col. M. W. Sims, of this city, and formerly made his home in Bryan for a number of years. He has many warm friends here who will rejoice to learn that his merits are duly recognized in his promotion.

FRANKFORT INVADED.

One Thousand Armed Men Arrive There on Special Train.

SUPPORTING TAYLOR

They Go to the Capitol and Stack Their Arms on the Grounds—Many of Them Belong to the State Militia—Appeal Made.

Frankfort, Jan. 25.—A special train bearing more than 1000 men, carrying Winchester, arrived in Frankfort early this morning. The men hail from the counties of Bell, Allen, Knox, Harlan, Whitley, Metcalf and Edmonson. Frankfort is overflowing with visitors, but none except the above 1000, carry arms. Governor Taylor stated to the Associated Press representative that the men were not soldiers. He disclaimed any knowledge of the identity or purpose of the armed visitors.

The men marched to the statehouse, stacked their guns and took up positions in groups about the buildings. Adjutant General Collier states that he had no knowledge of the men coming. Many of the men are members of state guards.

Ex-Secretary of State Finley addressed the visitors from the steps of the state house. He said the object of the gathering was to see justice done.

A committee was appointed to draft resolutions. Senator Sharp of Lexington, was chosen chairman and will make an address.

The committee drafted the following which will be presented to the legislature:

"We, Kentuckians, here assembled, in token of all 'free and equal men' of Kentucky, do reassert the great and essential principles of liberty and free government proclaimed in a bill of rights, not as derived to us therefrom but as 'inherent.' Our property we may alienate from ourselves and our children, but our liberty is a heritage in us in trust for all generations, and we may neither surrender nor encumber it. We declare again the prerogative right of freely communicating our thoughts and opinions and assemble together in a peaceful manner for our common good and the good of our fellowmen of Kentucky. More especially do we declare our right and authority conferred on us by Almighty power, and not otherwise of appealing to those invested with the power of government by either petition or remonstrance, and we represent to them our brethren of Kentucky, our agents in the legislature convened, that the government of Kentucky, founded on authority and instituted for our peace, safety and happiness, and the protection of property, our own and theirs, as well as that of the stranger within our gates. We petition them our proxies in general assembly to heed that there is peril hovering over all those things, so dear to us and them, and that calmness and prudence and wisdom need be invoked in order that truth and justice may prevail; and we exercise our right of 'remonstrance,' against their suffering themselves to be led into temptation of partisan pride in the crisis which is on us. We beseech them to remember that their own just powers were loaned to them by us at the polls, and that among these was jurisdiction to decide judicially and by the due process of law and not otherwise, what was then our expressed will and not their present political preference. We implore them that they do not on any slight or technical pretexts, nor flimsy or trivial causes, permit a subversion of that supreme law of the land—the will of the people.

"We beg them that they receive from the hands of our messengers, and consider and do not spurn or despise, our earnest address, petition and remonstrance, and that they by their considerate action protect, preserve and promote the safety and welfare, and above all, the honor of Kentucky committed to their keeping."

The petition is signed by Charles Finley, Thomas W. Berry, A. W. Kazer and Claude Chinn.

The lower house of the legislature on a motion of Mr. Cantrell the Democratic leader, adopted a resolution excluding all but ladies from the chamber and the galleries.

A rumor was in circulation, but persistently denied, that Judge Cantrell of the local circuit court, had summoned all Democratic deputy sheriffs in the state to come to Frankfort. The commonwealth's attorney of Franklin county says he knows of no such order.

NEWS FROM MANILA.

Americans Route Several Squads of Intrenched Insurgents With Loss.

Manila, Jan. 25.—A part of General Schwan's column, consisting of six companies with some artillery, drove a force of 500 insurgents from their entrenchments at San Diego near San Pablo on Sunday. The enemy officially reported that they lost 67 killed and many wounded. Our casualties were 1 killed and 14 wounded, the injuries in most instances being slight.

Another battalion, while executing a flank movement, came upon 100 other rebels in an entrenched position and routed them, killing 15. The Americans had two wounded.

General Schwan moved against Maj. Laguna province on Tuesday. He found its position almost impregnable, but by lowering men down the steep river banks by ropes, flanked the enemy and drove them out. A part of his command proceeded to Santa Cruz, killing six insurgents.

General Wheeler and his daughter left on Wednesday on the transport Warren for San Francisco via Hong Kong and Guam.

HELPING MAIL CLERKS.

Postmaster General Smith Recommends That They Be Better Paid.

Washington, Jan. 25.—Some time ago Postmaster General Smith issued an order made by Postmaster General Wilson in 1895, prohibiting postoffice employees from visiting Washington to influence legislation. The order carried dismay to the hearts of employees in the railway mail service who had been planning a vigorous campaign in support of their contention for a reclassification of the service. Mr. Smith, however, had no intention of leaving them in the lurch or of having the plan defeated through lack of support. He has himself laid before the committee on postoffices and postroads the claims of the employees with a strong argument in favor of increase in pay.

He points out that the United States expects more from its employees in this service and pays them less than the leading countries of Europe.

YAQUI PRISONERS.

Less Than One Hundred Braves Are Among the Number Captured.

Ortiz, Mex., Jan. 25.—Over 300 Yaqui Indian prisoners who were captured by the Mexican troops in the recent engagements are being taken to Guaymas under a strong guard of soldiers. Many of the prisoners are women and boys and there are less than 100 braves in the lot.

The Mexican military authorities refuse to give out any information concerning the details of the recent fighting. It is reported, however, that the number of Mexican soldiers killed in the two days' battle exceeded that of the rebels. The statement that the rebels have scattered into small bands is not credited here.

A Sword for Wainwright.

Secretary Long in presenting the sword referred to Commander Wainwright as "the bravest of the brave."

"FAIRY TALES."

SOME FOLK'S pretences to always undersell the world are rather tiresome. No one has monopoly of Brains and money. It will be a very sorry day for this little town when competition ceases. The fanciful stories of some remind us much of our childhood days when we sat on Mothers knee listening to Mother Goose stories. But maturer years require more reason. You want something more substantial than Fairy tales. That by our constant attempt is to make the prices on our goods a point to meet the approval of the sensible purchasing public.

CONTEST IN KENTUCKY.

Witnesses Examined as to the Tissue Ballots Used in the Election.

Frankfort, Ky., Jan. 26.—Many witnesses were examined before the gubernatorial contest boards yesterday, the evidence relating chiefly to the alleged use of tissue ballots in Democratic counties and to the use of militia in Louisville.

John B. Pirtle of Louisville resumed the stand at the beginning of the session. He stated that of 206 registered voters in one precinct only 118 votes were cast. He had endeavored to have the voting expedited, but was told that the voting place was so cold that the clerks could not work any faster. The witness testified that he saw two inspectors for the Brown ticket ejected from the voting place, whereupon he asked somebody to telephone Chief of Police Haager to instruct an officer to demand the admittance of the inspectors. The inspectors were admitted on an order from the chief of police.

H. M. Harrison, employed by a firm that printed the ballots for 30 counties, testified that he had heard no complaints from the counties using the ballots his firm furnished.

W. S. Callon, who printed the ballots used in Powell, Breathitt and Wolf counties, testified that the ballots were transparent. A sample ballot was offered as evidence.

Several others testified as to the tissue ballots.

Whallen Indictment Quashed.

Frankfort, Ky., Jan. 25.—The indictment against John Whallen of Louisville, charging him with attempting to bribe Senator S. B. Harrell, was quashed in the Franklin circuit court here on motion of the commonwealth attorney. The motion was made in response to affidavits filed by Whallen's attorneys, P. Wat Hardin and Theodore Hallam, claiming that the grand jury that returned the indictment was irregularly drawn in that one of them was taken sick and two others served in his stead at various times pending the taking of evidence. Another objection made by Whallen's attorneys was that five of the jurors were selected from bystanders and not from the box of names as required by law.

Investigation of the Whallen-Harrell affair is still pending before a committee of the senate.

Struck by an Engine.

Gainesville, Tex., Jan. 25.—J. Hanne Ellis, a farmer, while driving across the Katy railroad track here with a two-horse wagon loaded with hay, was struck by an engine. The wagon was demolished, but Mr. Ellis escaped with a few painful but not particularly serious bruises.

Governor Sayers Recommends the Reduction of the Ad Valorem Rates from 25 to 16 2-3 Cents—The Senate and House.

Austin, Jan. 25.—The first business before the senate yesterday was the supplemental message of Governor Sayers which dealt with the treasury department and with the public domain. The governor submitted many details, being facts and figures taken from the records.

The message recommends a reduction of the ad valorem taxes from 25 cents to 16 2-3 cents on the $100.

Also recommended the compensation of the permanent school fund for any deficiency that may have accrued by reason of the alienation of any portion of lands belonging to the same under and by section 2, article VII of the constitution, and in connection therewith to repeal chapter 173, approved June 5, 1899, and known as senate bill No. 344, acts of the twenty-sixth legislature.

Also to better regulate the compensation of the superintendents of the state lunatic asylums.

The finance committee reported favorably Mr. Dibrell's bill appropriating $60,000 to pay mileage and per diem of this session.

Three hundred extra copies of the journals, containing the two messages of the governor were ordered printed.

A resolution authorizing each senator to subscribe for four copies of the daily newspapers during the session was defeated.

Senator Potter introduced a bill providing for the settling of the account between the school fund and the public domain. The bill appropriates to the school fund all the remaining public domain, some 4,444,000 acres and recognizes a shortage of some 29,000 acres, and in order to compensate for this shortage it proposes to appropriate to the school fund out of the general revenue $29,000; and also that patents issue on all legal files made in the general land office prior to the Hogue decision against Land Commissioner Baker by the supreme court. Referred to the committee on public lands.

The second message of the governor was read in the house immediately upon the resumption of business. It was referred to the finance committee.

Chairman Henderson of the finance committee submitted favorable reports on house bills providing for $45,000 the per diem and mileage of members and $10,000 for contingent expenses. These bills are known as house bills 3 and 4.

On motion of Mr. Henderson the rules were suspended in order to place bill No. 2 on its second reading and ordered to engrossment.

On motion of Mr. Henderson the bill was under suspension of the rules passed.

On motion of Mr. Henderson the rules were suspended and house bill No. 3, providing an appropriation of $10,000 for contingent expenses, was passed.

Mr. Childs offered a resolution expressing sympathy for the Boers caused a lengthy discussion which was finally referred.

Mr. Henderson of Lamar, introduced by unanimous consent house bill No. 5, appropriating $197,415 65 for deficiencies for the two years beginning March 1, 1899, and ending Feb. 28, 1901.

A resolution was passed allowing each member $10 and the officers $2 each for postage during the session.

By the adoption of a motion by Mr. Oliver, each member was allowed to subscribe for four copies of any daily newspaper during the session.

The house refused to have the governor's messages printed for distribution.

Troops Protect the Kendalls.

Nicholasville, Ky., Jan. 25.—Colonel R. B. Williams with a detachment of 80 soldiers have arrived here from Lexington with Milton Kendall and his two sons, William and Charles Kendall to protect them from mob violence. The Kendalls are charged with the murder of Farmer Eugene Cassell on the night of Jan. 4. Evidence is strong against them and many a revengeful rumor is afloat among the citizens. The examining trial will be held Feb. 1, and the soldiers will remain until it is completed.

Mexico in Cotton Trade.

City of Mexico, Jan. 25.—There are now 156 cotton mills operating in Mexico and many new mills are building and old ones being enlarged. Many cotton mill owners believe that Mexico is now in a position to export cotton textiles to South America in competition with England and the United States which are on a gold basis. An attempt will be made to introduce Mexican cotton goods into the west coast ports of the lower part of the hemisphere.

Race Riot Reported.

Birmingham, Ala., Jan. 25.—News has just reached this city of a riot between negroes and white miners at Coalburg, a small station 12 miles out. A negro was found dead in one of the mines. The negroes believe he was shot by a white man and are arming themselves for vengeance. The operator at the station left his office, fearing that he would be killed.
